en. Schoffeld in Command of the Army-Sherma Introduces a Bill for the Suppression of Trusts-The House Frittering Away Time Fitibustering.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries today comnenced an investigation into the fur-seal fisheries of Alaska. The resolution under which the investigation is held directs the committee to make a thorough investigation into the fur-seal fisheries of Alaska, and all contracts or leases made by the Government with any persons or companies for taking any fur seals or other fur-bearing animals in Alaska, and the character, dura-tion and conditions of the same. The committee is also directed to ascertain whether contracts have been violated and report whether any legislation is necessary for the orotection of the seal fisheries.

S. S. Buynigsky, an ex-agent of the S. S. Buynigsky, an ex-agent of the Treasury Department, who had spent three months on the island of St. George and some time on the island of St. Paul in 1871 and 1872, said that while on St. Paul Island he found the people good-natured and peaceable. The terms of the contract with the Alaskan company required that the company should look after the people's interests. He had no reason to make any observations to the agent of the company with regard to the same. The company had issued an order that there should be no greater advance than 25 per cent. on the observations to the agent of the company with regard to the same. The company had issued an order that there should be no greater advance than 25 per cent. on the commodities of life over the wholesale prices at San Francisco. He was satisfied that there was no departure from this rule. The enly greivance the natives had was the attempted suppression by agents of the company and those of the Government of the practices by the natives of distilling a beverage which the agents regarded as poisonous. The company had given for all its work fair compensation. The probable effect of opening up to competition the seal fisheries, witness said, would be to drive the seals from the Alaskan islands to the Russian seal islands, and the people of the Alaskan islands would be deprived of their livelihood and have to be supported by the United States Government.

H. A. Glidden, also an ex-agent of the Treasury Department at Seal Islands from May, 1882, to July, 1885, said that the moral habits of the people were good. There was no breach of the peace to speak of, and no necessity for civil officers. The great evil existing was the propensity of the people to gamble. It was their great failing. No intoxicating liquors were that laborers were paid better than any other laborers in the world. From an almost barbarous state under the Russian Government, the islanders had been brought up to a state of semi-civilization under the influence of the American Government. His opinion was that it the fisheries were thrown open to competition seals would become extinct in five years. The policy of leasing the privilege of taking seals was the very best that could be practiced by the Government.

FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON (D. C.), Aug. 14.-[By the Associated Press. Senate.—In the Senate Mr. Reagan introduced a bill to define trusts and provide for the punishment of persons connected with them. In the course of the discussion as to its ry clear that there was no such power in Congress to be derived from its power to raise and collect taxes. It was a power itself. Similar laws had been enacte England and other countries. As to whether such laws could be engrafted by national authority on the statute books of the United States, under its peculiar system of govern-ment, there was some doubt."

Mr. Reagan said that the bill was framed with a view of avoiding the constitutional difficulty of assuming to legislate on the matter of State jurisdiction. There was also a difficulty in defining what a trust was and in providing appropriate penal-

After further discussion the bill was re ferred to the Committee on Finance Mr. Reagan also introduced a bill which was referred to the Committee on Commerce, requiring the officers, or at least three quarters of the crew, of every merchant wnaling fishing vessel to be oither native-born or naturalized citizens of merchant wnaling fishing vessel to either native-born or naturalized citizens of the United States.

The resolution offered some time since by Mr. Chandler, instructing the select Committee on Indian Traders to continue its investigations during recess, was reported back and agreed to.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the fisheries treaty, and was addressed by Mr. Morgan. Having quoted from Mr. Chandler's speech some extracts reflecting that the tongue of seandal had been led to the backs of horses and of Indians. It took 39 years to complete the structure, and at the dedication of the chapel, when the sat with closed doors nothing but scorpions were applied to the backs of American citizens who had been nominated for office, of the worshipers. It has never been rebuilt, owing to the superstition of many tors and owners of fishing vessels had thought they were putting up the smartest in a discussion of the question of free fish.

Mr. Morgan said the New England Senathors and owners of fishing vessels had thought they were putting up the smartest sort of a job in trying to use the treaty-make them resumed consideration of legislative business.

Mr. Sherman introduced a bill to declare unlawful trusts and combinations in restraint of trade and production, and had it referred to the Committee on Finance.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

Mr. O'Neill of Missouri, rising to a question of privilege, sent to the click's desk and had read an article in a washington paper to the effect that the relief of the Cherokee freedmen was the result of a bargain with Milton Turner, the reedmen's attorney, and was intended as compensation to him for his services to the Democratic party at the Indianapolis Colored Convention. Mr. O'Neill of Missouri, rising to a question of privilege, sent to the click's desk and had read an article in a washington paper to the effect that the effect of the Cherokee freedmen was the result of a bargain with Milton Turner, whom made, was "a lie, an absolute, plain unvarnished and unqualitied lie."

Mr. Owen suggested that the gentleman had not answered his question.

Mr. O'Neill: If the gentlemyn says that I am a party to any bargain in connection with this bill, he states what is a lie.

Mr. Owen thought that the gentleman was incapable of offering him a personal affront. He had objected to the bill on account of certain language which he had heard J. Milton Turner use, and had subsequently told members of Congress with whom Turner had the conversation that possibly a difficulty would arise upon the floor or during the campaign concerning the matter of the language Turner had used. This had caused him to make his objection. He did not believe it was his duty to allow the Democratic party to pay its debts to J. Milton Turner for his services tendered at the Indianapolis Convention.

Mr. Sayres of Texas moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of general appropriation bills.

Mr. Townshend inquired of the Speaker the consideration of species.

Mr. Townshend inquired of the Speaker what bill would be considered if the motion should prevail.

The Speaker declined to say, declaring that was a matter to be determined by the chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Townshend stated that he wished that the Deficiency Bill should be considered.

Mr. Sayres's motion was carried, but the

Mr. Sayres's motion was carried, but the fight was resumed in committee.

Mr. Townshend objected to the consideration of the Fortifications Bill, and that objection was reported to the House.

On the question whether the House would direct the Fortifications Bill to be laid aside, the vote resulted—yeas, 17; nays, 132; no quorum, and a call of the House was ordered.

The afternoon was consumed in an effectual effort to secure and hold a quorum. On each call of the House a bare quorum would be developed, but the margin of votes would be lost when the question recurred on setting aside the Fortifications Bill, and finally, on motion of Mr. Sayres, the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The House to Amend the Senate Anti-

Chinese Bill.

Washington, Aug. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The House Committee on Foreign Affairs this morning instructed Mr. Creary to call up in the House next Saturday the bill to give effect to the Chinese treaty. A few formal amendments in the Senate bill will be recommended by the committee, the most important being one to repeal conflicting acts, presumably omitted by the Senate through inadvertence. Although the amendments are purely formal, they are regarded as essential to the perfect intent of the measure, and their adoption by the House will necessitate the return of the bill to the Senate and further action by that body before it can take the form of

THE DEMOCRATS.

CAUCUSES IN NINE PRECINCTS LAST NIGHT.

The Cuddy Wing Active, and It Is Believed that They Generally Get Away with the Pot-The "Mac" Brigade Out in Force.

The Democrats caucused in the 10 precincts of the city last night. The attendance, especially of the rougher elements of the party, was very full and in some of the precincts the mac brigade had everything heir own way. It was notable that the same gang who made themselves so numer-ous at the late primaries of the Republican party in the Second and Fourth Wards were on hand last night, cutting a wide swath. Abbott, the mac and opium fiend, loomed up as prominently in the rôle of Democrat as he had previously done in the character

In the Second precinct there was a split, and two tickets were placed in nomination and two lickets were placed in homination.
The several tickets named last night will be voted for at the primaries tomorrow, and, if all signs do not fail, there will be fully abunch rock-rolling and ward-striking as there was at the wost of the late primaries. Reports of the proceedings in the several precincts are given below:

FIRST PRECINCT.

The East Side Democrats held a quiet meeting at the Plata Fina clubrooms last night. Richard Dunnigan was in the chair and William Vickery was secretary. There was no opposition to the following ticket and William Vickery was secretary. There was no opposition to the following ticket for delegates to the County Convention: E. Hayden, Charles Patterson, James Hanley, William Hughes, Richard Dunnigan, Thomas Meredith, J. G. Frick and N. Embody.

SECOND PRECINCT.

There was a red-hot time in the Demo There was a red-hot time in the Demoratic party on San Fernando street last oight. When a Times reporter arrived early on the scene, a tall individual drew him to one side and said: "There's going to be lots of fun here tonight. Johnny Harvey, that used to be barkeep in the White Elephant, has a gang of shovelers and gravel-pit men. He's against Tom McCaffrey and Joe Davidson, who are running the machine. They belong to the County Central Committee, and are for Cuddy. That's Harvey in there speaking now," and the reporter went through a saloon, next to the Southern Hotel, into the small cardroom in the rear, where men were soon, next to the Southern Hotel, into the small cardroom in the rear, where men were standing as thick as canned sardines. Standing upon a chair was a young chap, whose mustache was the only thing down on him. He was speaking in this wise: "I want all in the radius of my voice to hear. This club was an infant once, and they laughed at us. Now we're some pungkins, and they find we are men. We come here for harmony. I have been out to see the boys, and we've got things all fixed. I am for those who stand by me. That's the way Cleveland got elected. That's the way Caesar did, and Napoleon. Who'll you have for chairman?"

A tremendous chorus of voices yelled, "Harvey, Harvey," and that gentleman continued: "Weil, I'm elected. Thank you, gentlemen."

To his right was a coteria of persons who small cardroom in the rear, where men were you, gentlemen."

To his right was a coterie of persons whe To his right was a colerie of persons whe seemed to have put up a job on the meeting to run things and Harvey in their own way. There were two printed tickets circulated in the room, and it appeared to be the determination of Harvey and his "leftenants" to totally ignore the Mc-Caffrey ticket.
"How will you elect delegates?" asked "How will you have a superior of the coterie.

"By acclamation," responded the coterie. The matter was then put to a vote, and there was a terrific test of lung power exhibited, as the air was rent with ayes and hibited, as the air was rent with ayes and nays.

"The ayes have it," quickly declared Harvey, whereat a large number rebelled at the manifestly unfair decision, and proceeded to organize an opposition meeting in the rear end of the reception room of the hotel. Harvey was unabashed at such proceedings, and proceeded to call off the names on his printed ticket. One of the coterie would cry out:

"Mr. Chairman, I nominate Harry Brownson." Another member of the coterie would second the nomination. A voice in another part of the hall feebly nominated some one not suitable to the voice in another part of the hall feebly nominated some one not suitable to the Chair, who paid no attention whatever to the nomination, and Brownson was declared elected. This was the way 14 names were elected. Then a young man with a big scar on his face braved the opposition of Harvey and his "leftenauts," and getting upon a table nominated Louis Stone. This was the signal for great confusion.

The presence of three big burly policemen alone prevented a row. The young man was pulled off the table. A vote was taken, wherein the ayes and nays were about even. Harvey declared Stone elected. He then held a short consultation with his lieutenauts and declared that his lieutenants and declared that was not elected. The matter was Stone was not elected. The matter was then left to an electoral commission of five, created and appointed by Harvey himself, who retired for consultation, and in five minutes returned and announced that "Stone was cancelled." For a tew minutes Stone's friends made the air blue with minutes returned and announced that "Stone was cancelled." For a few minutes Stone's friends made the air blue with threats of revenge, but the police succeeded in keeping the peace. The ticket was then completed and was: E. Biennerhassett, Harry Brownson, John P. Harvey, James E. Gilman, Walter Deveraux, Freeman Stewart, Hugh Sweeney, Chris Hickson, Joe Davidson, John Cavanaugh, A. Duggan, Tom Prindiville, J. B. Clark, Ed Hayles, Morgan O'Brien and William O'Brien. Before adjourning the Chair appointed Chris Hickson, F. Stewart, J. E. Gilman and Hugh Sweeney as workers at the primary election.

The opposition meeting was quietly organized with Joe Davidson as chairman, and Ed. T. East as secretary. The following ticket was nominated: W. Deveraux, C. W. Schroeder, E. Steinman, Joe Romero, J. F. Gerkins, Thomas McCaffrey, H. Sweeney, Louis Stone, C. Massey, J. Davidson, C. L. Hargitt, R. L. Garrett, J. Cavanaugh, P. Keenan, Joseph P. Rowan and M. C. Fordham.

THIRD PRECINCY. The Third Precinct caucus was held in Justice Taney's courtroom, which was crowded to suffocation with one of the crowded to suffocation with one of the hardest crowds that ever gathered in the city. The Third is Mr. Cuddy's ward, and it was plain to see that the caucus had been packed in his interest, every policentan in the city who was off duty being on hand. Robert Dominguez was elected chairman and Charles A. Stephens secretary, and after a short respite, the gang of thugs and toughs broke out, and wild confusion reigned supreme. Several sergeants-atarms were then appointed, and when a semblance of order had been secured, the business of making nominations was proceeded with. Among the most loud-mouthed and noisy of those present were Johnny Abbott, Billy Abbott, Downey, and the entire "mac" brigade. These choice spirits gathered about the corner of the table and kept up a continual chatter during the entire evening. There appeared to be two factions, one boss and the other anti-boss, Johnny Abbott leading the boss gang, and Louis Levy the anti-boss. Whenever one of either party would make a motion the opposition would raise a howl, and at one time the disorder was so great that the of either party would make a motion the opposition would raise a howl, and at one time the disorder was so great that the chairman announced that unless there was less noise the meeting would be adjourned until some future time. This seemed to bring the mob to its seemed, and for a time there was comparative quiet. But it was too tough a gang to keep under control for any length of time, and they soon broke out again. Mr. Dominguez, as chairman of the meeting, had his hands full. Nominations were made by almost every man in thehouse, and, after a struggle, a motion was made and carried that the nominations be closed. There was another noutbreak at this point, and the "mae" brigade raised a howl that the tellers be balloted for. Mr. Dominguez refused to entertain this motion, and appointed Messrs. Capitan and Levy as tellers. Johnny Abbott objected to Levy, and he refused to act, when Mr. Orfila was appointed in his place. The two factions seemed to fear that there would be ballot stuffing, and loudly 'intimated as much. The crowd were finally got in line and deposited their ballots, and, after another noisy outbreak, the counting was proceeded with, which resulted in the election of the following: V. Sentous, B. Arzaga, E. J. Conroy, Charles A. Stephens, H. King, Philip Stoll, M. B. Stevens, John McManus, P. Ballade, M. T. Collins, John F., Mackel, John Fenton, E. H. Perry, Joe Maier, H. Seebeck, George Stephenson, P. H. Mathews, John Moriarty, D. J. McCarthy, B. Radigan, J. K. Ahern, Joe Rech.

This ticket is solid for Cuddy, and was supported by the toughs as a unit. In this connection it might be well to state that about the same gang—the Abbotts et al.—who raised the row at the Kepublican primaries were the ones who caused all the confusion last night, and many of the respectable Democrats openly stated in the caucus that they would oppose the nominees at the primaries, as they could stated in the caucus that they would oppose the nominees at the primaries, as they could not afford to be identified with the element who controlled the caucus. It-looked sev-eral times as though there would be a free fight, but, be it said to the credit of the "hoods"—the only good thing in their favor—they did not come to blows, but even this forbearance was more on account of the large police force in attendance than from any delicacy of feeling on their part.

FOURTH PRECINCY. The Fourth Precinct caucus was held in Judge Hutton's courtroom, where a very different state of affairs prevailed. Most of different state of affairs prevailed. Most of the voters in this precinct reside in the hill portion of the ward, and are generally men of property and standing. Henry A. Baer was elected chairman and Alex Patton secretary. The proceedings were very orderly throughout, the only objectionable feature being the large number of policemen who were on hand. The following were nominated: Dr. J. Kurtz, H. Jay Hanchette, F. B. Colver, W. L. Price, M. P. Snyder, S. G. MacCennell, William Bryson, D. J. Lewis, Hugh Glassell, T. Cooney, A. Davis, T. Tusley, G. Silverberg and John Schieck.

FIFTH PRECINCT.

In the Fifth Precinct meeting Frank Sabichi presided, and Matt Carr acted as Sabichi presided, and Matt Carr acted as secretary. The Boyle Heights delegation were agreed to as follows: C. H. White, I. N. Cochran, J. L. O'Bryan, L. F. Fisher, G. S. Blake and W. H. Shaw. The other delegates nominated were: J. J. Mahoney, A. Lindenfield, Charles Stober, H. Glass, J. Dupuy, P. M. Scott, T. Frohlinger, J. J. Norton and Matt Carr.

A communication from the German-American Democratic Club was presented, asking for the nomination of C. Jacoby, Dr. Lindenfeld and Samuel Prager as representatives of that organization.

A Session for Revision-New Ideas in Afterthoughts.

The Freeholders held a session in the Council chamber as a revisory board yesterday, with the following members in attendday, with the following members in attendance: Baldwin, Moore, Day, Mackey, Robinson, Mansfield, Brown, Scott and Bonebrake. On motion, Mr. Bonebrake was called to the chair in the absence of Mayor Workman. Mr. Robinson, chairman of the Revisory Committee, read his report, giving the changes made by the committee. Gen. Mansfield said that the people did not approve of the south boundary of the Fifth Ward, but he withheld his remarks, pending the report of the committee.

On motion of Walter S. Moore, the word "public" was inserted in the section relating to billiard tables.

The matter of regulating livery stables came up, and Mr. Bonebrake said he thought this power should be given to the Council. After remarks by Mr. Day, Gen. Mansfield and Mr. Moore, Mr. Brown moved to insert livery and sale stables with other business to be restricted, suppressed or prohibited by the Council. Gen. Mansfield spoke in favor of the motion, as did also Mr. Robinson, who was in favor of prohibiting the establishment of cattle and because over the winds as a second or severals which suggestion. ance: Baldwin, Moore, Day, Mackey, Rob

He thought they were altogether too high, and as the city was now entering upon a new era and things were altogether cheaper than for many years past, so he would move that the salaries of the City Assessor, Street Superintendent, Health Officer and City License and Tax Collector be reduced from $3000 to $2400.

Mr. Moore moved that the subject of salaries be taken up seriatim, and that the salary of the City Clerk be reduced from $5000 to $2400.

CARRIE PETCHNER.

A GIRL WHOSE MIND IS A LITTLE "OFF CENTER,"

Or Else She is Badly Maligned-A Refuge in Mrs. Watson's Home for Girls-Perennial Trouble with

For some days past all kinds of stories have been in circulation regarding a young girl from Riverside named Carrie Petchner, who is now in the Girls' Home and is in charge of Mrs. Watson.

Mr. Wright of the Humane Society' has taken quite an interest in the girl for the reason that his daughter used to go to school with her, and he has known her since she was a child.

Mr. Wright called at the home the other day and was at first refused admittance but when he represented to the matron that he was a minister from Riverside, he was allowed to see the young lady, and, he had quite a long talk with her. He then inter-viewed some of the neighbors, and became convinced in his own mind that there is something in the wind that he does not un-derstand.

convinced in his own mind that there is something in the wind that he does not understand.

According to what he learned he became convinced that the girl is filegally detained, or something of that kind. He said to a TIMES reporter that the girl has some property in her own name, and that her tather is a very wealthy man, and will leave her a large fortune if nothing is done to prevent such sieps. But the girl has got it into her head that her stepmother is doing all in her power to keep her out of the fortune, and has made several attempts to send her to a private asylum. Mr. Wright believes that the girl was placed in the Girls' Home and is detained there for a purpose. Some of the neighbors informed him that Mrs. Watson had given instructions to the matron not to allow anyone to see Miss Petchner, and that they did not even allow her to have books or anything to read. Mr. Wright has paid Mrs. Watson several visits and seems to be greatly interested in the poor girl, but does not know what to do. He believes her to be perfectly sane and is willing to do anything in his power for her.

Mrs. Watson was seen by a TIMES re-

AT THE HOME. Mrs. Watson was seen by a Times re-porter last night, and was perfectly willing o give any information regarding the girl in her possession.

She had heard the stories about Miss Petchner's confinement in the Home, and seemed anxious to have the matter thoroughly investigated by the TIMES man. A hack was procured, and the reporter was soon in the presence of the matrou of the home. The lady was willing to talk, and said:

home. The lady was willing to take, which is ald:

"Miss Petchner was sent to Mrs. Watson's residence by a well-known physician, who thought the girl should be looked after, as she seemed to be a little wrong in the head. Mrs. Watson brought her out here, and we have done all in our power to make her comfortable. She seems to be perfectly satisfied, and I am quite sure that she is rapidly improving. She is very she is rapidly improving.

be a Riverside minister, and I thought it would be no harm in letting her see a preacher."

"Why do you not allow her to see her friends?" asked the reporter.

Mrs. Watson, who was present, answered this question: "Whenever Carrie talks about her imaginary troubles with her stepmother she becomes greatly excited. She has got it into her head that her mother has injured her, and she is a little weak-minded on that subject. Her father and brother were very anxious for her to be kept away from her friends, and I am trying to carry out their wishes. She ran away from home and came up here and visited around until she was out of clothes and everything else, and was finally sent to me. I believe she is improving, but I don't know what we shall do with her. Her father is very anxious about her, and has put her in my hands under the belief that I can do something for her. She is about 22 years old, and is a very bright, pretty girl. I think she is improving, and I hope she will recover. She is not crazy, but she has some strange ideas about her stepmother. I think she will get over it. We do not like to give her books, for the reason that she destroys them, but she is treated as kindly as possible."

CABRIE TALKS.

CARRIE TALKS. The reporter was allowed to see the young lady. She is quite pretty, and does not seem to be crazy. She is rather bright, and has received a good education at the University of Southern Castrornia, in this city. She said she had wished to see a re-porter for some days. When her troubles first began she was very anxious to keep out of the newspapers, but now she thinks the time has come for an expose. After city. She said she had wished to see a reporter for some days. When her troubles first began she was very anxious to keep out of the newspapers, but now she thinks the time has come for an exposé. After a little preliminary conversation she made the following statement:

"Four years ago my father married a Mrs. Murphy of San Francisco, in Los Angeles. I never liked her, for I believed and now believe that she married my father for money. Before that time my life was as happy as possible, but my troubles began with my father's second marriage, and I have been most miserable ever since.

"When my father was stricken with paralysis, my stepmother induced me to go to San Francisco. She told me that it would be much better for him, and I believed her, but I learned subsequently that it was a scheme to get me married to a nasty little dude. As soon as I became convinced that my stepmother wished to get rid of me, I came back to Riverside, and it was then that she attempted to have me sent to a private lunatic asylum in Stockton and I ran away. I have some lots in this city which I wished to sell, and I went to see Col. Wells, and he was to take me back to Riverside so that I could get my business arranged, but he was taken sick and I found myself without money, and I went to my doctor and he thought I had better go to Mrs. Watson for some years and I was perfectly willing to go to her, and I am perfectly willing to go to her, and I am perfectly willing to remain here as long as my stepmother leaves me alone. She has made up her mind to get us children out of her way, so that she can get the whole of my father's fortune, and she is afraid of me. I saw my father and brother the other day, but I did not ask them to do anything for me for the reason that they are under her influence, and they can do nothing. I like it verys much here, and I am fond of Mrs. Watson. But I have written about 30 letters and have not received an answer to one of them. I have three here now that I would like to have mailed, but I am afraid tha

FRAY-ANSOHLAG.

A Lively Set-to in the County Jail

There was a lively fight at the County Jall yesterday. Jailer Russell heard some one slamming the cell doors, and, on going back to investigate, Frank Fray, the Analysis of the county Jall yesterday. back to investigate, Frank Fray, the Antelope Valley desperado, came to the grating and told him that Anschlag was the guilty party. Mr. Russell called up Auschlag, and he promptly acknowledged that he was the man, but said that he was only playing. He was warned not to do so again, and the jailer left. As soon as Russell gotuut of the way Anschlag went up to Fray and asked him why he had informed on him. Fray told him to shut up, and, without another word, struck him a terrific blow in the eye, which he followed up with another on the bridge of the nose, knocking Anschlag down. The men were separated and Anschlag helped to his feet. He was covered with blood, and appeared to be badly hurt. Fray was put into the dungeon. The Antelope Valley bandit is a great bully, and is generally disliked by the prisoners, as he delights in tormenting them. He will hardly make another assault on one of them, after he gets through with his punishment.

These people, if guilty, should be punished; if Innocent, should be discharged.

The law, under all circumstances, gives the defendant a speedy trial. It is impossible for me to try them unless means are provided by which a jury can he assembled. There is only one thing to do, of which you are the judges. If you fall to assist the courts and officers of the law in the suppression of crime, then declare yourselves as in favor of crime, and not in favor of law and order. The responsibility will be with you. Of course your well-known reputation for manhood and statesmanship induces me to believe that you are equal to the occasion.

Should you have any doubts in the matter consult your City Attorney and chairman of the Finance Committee. Respectfully, Leg Crushed. A colored man named Taylor met with a serious accident yesterday morning at First and Alameda streets. Taylor was on his way to work, and attempted to climb be-way to work, and attempted to climb be-tween a couple- of cars of the San Pedro freight train, which was standing across the street. Just as he steeped on the "bump-ers" the train backed down, which shook him off, catching his leg and crushing it badly above the kase. He was taken home as soon as possible and medical aid sum-moned. It is probable that the leg will have to be amputated. Young Republicans.

An Explan tion.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years are the word malaria was comparatively unknown—today it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that writes from a diseased condition of the liver, which, in performing its functions, finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel, is congelled to pass it off through the system, cansing nervous troubles, malaria, bilious fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.

THE COMPANY STIRRED UP TO ACTIVE MEASURES.

Communication to the Council Promising Great Improvements, Which a "Times" Reporter, on Investigation, Finds Already in

For some time past there has been more or less complaint about the electric light company, and it has frequently been charged in the Council, and by private citzens, that the company did not furnish the light for which the city contracted, and furthermore, that many localities were not lighted because the company did not have the power to furnish the lights—in fact, that they had only sufficient power to furnish about two-thirds of the light for which hish about two-thirds of the light for which they were being paid. As before stated, this matter has been a frequent theme of discussion by the City Fathers, and some months ago a resolution was passed that some practical electrician be employed by the city to test the lights and see if they came up to the contract power, but from months ago a resolution was passed that some practical electrician be employed by the city to test the lights and see if they came up to the contract power, but from some cause this was never done. The company, however, were finally aroused to the necessity of doing something toward keeping up with the progress of the city, especially as a competitor was making a strong effort to get into the field, the Houston-Thompson Company having made an application for a franchise. The electric company secured a lot on Sepulveda street, and had plans drawn for a much larger plant than the one now in use. They had made some progress in this direction, when certain Councilmen brought up the matter in the Council, and the company was ordered to stop work, on the ground that Sepulveda was a residence street, and that there was strong opposition on the part of the residents to the erection of the electric light works there. There was considerable talk about this matter at the time, and some ugly charges were made, but the whole matter was finally dropped. The application of the new company for a franchise was, after considerable talk, virtually killed, objections being repeatedly raised to it, until Mr. Stearns, the promoter of the scheme, ceased to push it. There was then another long term of waiting, when the matter bobbed up serenly again in the Council two weeks ago. Various members of the Council jumped on the company stiff-legged, and the usual charges of insufficient power, robbing the city, lights wanted but not supplied, etc., were made, and a resolution was passed asking the company which had before asked for a franchise, but had been refused, to come forward and accept it, as it was thought that by this means the old company would be stirred up to put forward something like agenuine effort to meet the legitimate demands that were being made upon it. In answer to this resolution the electric light company at the last meeting of the Council, submitted the following reply to the strictures which had been passed upon th

THE COMPANY'S ANSWER.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Aug. 10, 1888.

To the Gas Committee—GENTLEMEN; Referring to the action of the City Council at the meeting on last Monday, wherein this company was severely criticised as having broken faith in not applying good and sufficient light, since the press report of that meeting the superistendent and the secretary of this company have interviewed some of the members of the Council, as well asy yourselves, and we now respectfully submit a report of the large improvements this company are now making and have to a large extent completed at our present works at the corner of Banning and Alameda streets.

We are placing two 200-horse power Corliss engines and two 200-horse power to bilers, which, in connection with our present capacity will make a total of 700 horse power. Two new dynamos have just been added, making the number now in use 10, carrying on the average 45 lamps each. Additional electrical apparatas will be added as lights are needed. We would also draw your attention to this fact: The company purchased a lot on Sepulveda street to erect a two-story brick building sufficient for the requirements of the city for a long time to come. Owing to the act of the Council in April the company was ordered to suspend operations, which greatly hindered them in carrying out their intended improvements, as plans and specifications had been drawn for that locality. We then had to arrange for a lease of property adjoining our present works, which we eventually secured, and had to rearrange the building, all of which takes time. This company is, however, pushing matters as fast as it is safe and possible.

The company's contract with the city calls for the company to furnish all lights as ordered by the city from time to time. This company has ever been ready to fulfill their contract. Notwithstanding the insufficiency of power at the works to supply all the light needed, we can and are ficiency of power at the works to supply all the light needed, we can and are at this time leasing outside power to furnish light; so that it is not a question of lack of power, but simply we have not been asked to sup-but simply we have not been asked to supply any new light. For private individuals we have supplied light for short masts and stores when ever requested to do so.

In regard to the ordering of additional masts, we would submit that your committee meet and confer with this company and perfect a system for lighting the city, and not place masts here and there because petitioned to do so. Such a system is more necessary owing to the growth of the city and the construction of higher buildings. We hereby extend a cordial invitation to every member of the Couveil to inspect the works and satisfy themselves as to the extent of our improvements, and shall be only too glad to carry out any suggestion the Council may be pleased to make.

oo glad to carry out on the control of the control

Yesterday afternoon a Times reporter went out to the works of the company, on Alameda and Banning streets, to see REALLY AT WORK. went out to the works of the company, on Alameda and Baining streets, to see whether the company was really doing anything toward increasing the plant, or whether it was only another "bluft" to secure further time, and found a condition of affairs that looked like business. The building has been enlarged by an addition on Banning street, and a large force of men were at work putting in new machinery. Two new Hazelton tripod bollers of 250 horse power each are being erected, which will furnish power for the new engines. These boilers of the latest improved pattern and a great improvement over the old style. The immense '200-horse power Corliss engines, right and left hand, will also be put in. One of these engines is now being erected as fast as skilled mechanies can put it in position, and the other will arrive in about 40 days. The superintendent was not in at the time, but the foreman of the works took the reporter around and showed him the various improvements. When all the engines are in place the works will have a total horse power of 720, which will be ample to run all the dynamos, and still have a good margin for future growth. From the indications it looks as though the company is in earnest this time, and that in a few weeks all cause for complaint the company is in earnest this time, and that in a few weeks all cause for complaint will have been removed.

MESSRS. STEVENS & BRUNER, MONTOE, N. C.

Dear Sirs: About two months ago, on your recommendation, I bought a bottle of CurrQURA HESOLVENT, one box CUTICURA SALVE and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, for my son, aged thirteen years, who has been afflicted with eczema for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was cevered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now all disappeared, his shm is heatthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are working the gristle ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.

We have written and herewith inclose what his father has to say about the matter—wrote it just as he dictated.

We are selling quite a quantity of CUTICURA REMEDIES and hear nothing but praises for them. We regard the CUTICURA REMEDIES the best in the market, and shall do all we can to promote their sets.

DEPARTMENT OF CALIFORNIA, G.A.R.,
Orders No. 2.

I. It is with pleasure that the Commander congratulates his comrades upon the auspicious opening of this, our first annual encampment. Having met in F., C. and L. let us so demean ourselves as to cause no blemish to be cast upon the bright escutcheon of the Grand Army, and that when we strike tents to take up the line of march for another year, the memory of this encampment may be unclouded by a single regret, but may be an incentive to future annual reunions so happily inaugurated today. With no wish to curb the exuberance of feeling natural upon such an occasion as this, the Commander wishes to caution his comrades that the public gaze is upon us, and any thoughtless act of imprudence upon the part of one comrade might mar the enjoyment of all and jeopardize the success of not only this but all future encampments. With this word of caution the Commander earnestly asks the cooperation of each and every comrade present to maintain the dignity and reputation of the noble order to which we belong, and this, cheerfully rendered, will insure the success of the encampment to the full measure of all our wishes.

II. To the representatives of the Woman's fraternal greeting, coupled with the hope that their order may continue to grow and flourish after ours, in the due course of nature, has ceased to exist.

III. The Sons of Veterans we bid welcome. May the "tales of flood and field they listen to be an incentive to deeds of daring should the flag of our country ever again be menaced by either domestic or foreign foes. By command of John Brooker, Commander. H. W. Cowles, Adjutant.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES. No Trouble at the Briswalter Tract. Los Angeles, Aug. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times.] In your issue of today, August 14th, you publish under the heading "A Brief Cam-paign" an article that I deem it paign" my duty, on behalf of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and myself, to answer, as the article is duired to accommodate the crowd on the morning train. Long Beach was at her brightest and best too. The waves sparkled and glimmered in the sunlight and the ea was as calm as a summer lake, save where the breakers dashed and foamed, catching the merry crowd of bathers in their watery arms and tossing them hither and thither in a familiar, reckless fashion, utterly regardless of all delicate peisonal scruples against such rough treatment.

The purple peaks of Catalina's heights were penciled against the blue sky with wonderful clearness, while the lewer part of the island was seen through a misty veil of fog, peeping like a shy maiden from behind a transparent mask and forming a background for the tall masts of the ships lying in the harbor at Nan Pedro. At night a glorious sunset added its charms to the beauties of the dying day.

Monday was very much like the 5th of July, in that everyone seemed in a mood to rest and be quiet and left alone generally. The meetings which have been in session almost continuously for a month or more closed last week, and the intellectually disposed having enjoyed this "feast of reason and flow of soul" are inclined to pause and digest their mental food, before seeking 'pastures new." Frivolity and fashion will now have their turn. The tabernacle is deserted, the bell has ceased to ring out its summons, and the good Methodist campers in the classic shades of the grove will soon "fold their tents for a ten-days" solourn.

Tuesday morning, bright and early, and are up and away to Anaheim Landing, where Uncle Sam's boys in blue have pitched their tents for a ten-days' solourn.

While we are talking so much about protection and free trade, it is well to remember that the efficient administration of a protective tariff is quite as important as its maintenance. Frauds upon the custom laws have probably done as much harm to American indus tries as had legislation. It is easy to see that if some firms pay duty only on one-half or one-third of the value of the goods they import, their honest competitors as well as home manufacturers are defrauded and the moral sense of the trading community is de-

That this evil exists to a very great extent at the present time there is no doubt whatever. It is remarkable that members of Congress seem very averse to making any attack upon frauds of so great importance. Prior to 1874 the laws were very severe on undervaluation, and frauds on the revenue were promptly punished. The undervaluation of any item of an invoice confiscated the whole invoice. Any judge of a circuit or district court had power to order the seizure of books and papers, whenever satisfied, through the affidavit of any principal custom officer that frauds had been committed by any firm. From the fall of 1869 to the spring of 1874, one special agent alone, through the operation of the law as it then stood, collected more than $3,000,000 in penalties from about 80 firms in New York, for violation of the customs laws, bribery of officers and fraudulent undervaluation of mer-In 1873 and 1874 some famous suits were brought against well-known and highly-respectable firms in New York and Boston, involving enormous penalties claimed by the Government for the violation of the custom laws. Much attention was directed to these suits. and in some mysterious manner public sentiment was worked up in favor of the firms, and brought to bear on Congress to such an extent that in June. 1874, a law was passed which practically repealed all laws which had enabled the Government to cope with fraud on the revenue. Since that time there have not been a dozen successful suits for the condemnation of merchandise for fraud. In fact a premium has been placed upon fraud of this character, to the great detriment of hones importers, home manufacturers and public morality. Instead of the seizure THE DAILY TIMES will be sent to any of the whole invoice, in case of fraud, address by mail during the campaign, or as under the old law, now only the unare lial months, 93 issues- for Two DOLLARS, the called in question, and even then there is little danger of confiscation. The utmost penalty that can apparently be inflicted is the imposition of an additional duty of 20 per cent. where any item of merchandise is found by the appraising officers to be undervalued more than 10 per cent. Now, it is about time that Congress should face this question. There is no reason why the customs laws should not be as rigorously enforced as the internal revenue laws.

If protection is to protect, undervaluation of imported goods must cease.

Charles Crocker,

The death of Charles Crocker, which occurred yesterday afternoon, removes the second of that quartet of remark able men who have accumulated such immense wealth and power in the con struction and operation of the Pacific railways. Mark Hopkins went some years ago, Stanford and Huntington yet remain. As a long-headed, sagacious business man, and the possesso of a large fund of persevering indus try, the deceased deserves credit, but he shared with his associates the odium attaching to the operations of a corporation which has sought-and still seeks-to further increase its already enormous wealth by tampering with and undermining the foundation-stone of American liberty. The Pacific Coast and the National Government were superlatively generous to these men. That generosity met with a very poor return. Charles Crocker is dead. The railroad millionaire has gone to a Beyond where wealth plays no figure. Peace to his ashes! Our fight is not with the dead, but with the living.

ROBBING THE MAILS Wholesale Plunder of Postal Boxes

Wholesale Plunder of Postal Buxes in Chicago.
ChicAgo, Aug. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] A system of wholesale letter robbery, extending over a period of two years, involving the theft of thousands of letters, including enclosures of drafts and checks and postoffice orders, aggregating an uncount though known to exceed known amount, though known to exceed $100,000, and explaining in part numerous complaints made against the Chicago postal service, has been discovered by the police and United States postoffice inspectors to day. Frederick von Oberkampf and Thomas J. Mack are in custody. More arrests are likely to follow. Von Oberkampf claims that he is a member of a noble family, while Mack is a carpenter and citizen of the United States. The discovery of a gigantic pilfering of boxes came about in a curious and unexpected way. Von Oberkampf was indebted to his landlady, and in payment tendered her a check which she accepted and returned him the difference in cash. The check proved to have been forged and she piaced the matter in the hands of the police, who located the man in a room on North Market street. In searching this room the officers were astouished to find a truck filled to the top with letters. They had all been opened, bore no postmark and had the stamps removed. It was then ascertained sthate Von Oberkampf occupied another room, and when this was pilfering of boxes came about in a then ascertained sthate Von Oberkampi occupied another room, and when this was searched another trunk full of letters, all in occupied another room, and when this was searched another room, and when this was searched another trunk full of letters, all in the condition described above, was found. At another room in a notel was found a valise packed with broken mail matter and containing a bunch of keys. One of the keys was for railway mail pouches and the other would fit any letter box in the city.

The captured mall matter was then taken to the postoffice inspector. The envelopes contained all sorts of queer things usually sent through the mails, from dry goods samples and bits of jewelry to writing pads and photographs. But that which showed the magnitude of the depredations was the presence of piles of insurance policies and trust deeds, drafts, checks, money orders and promissory notes. These represented in the argregate nearly $100,000. The largest check was for $10,000, drawn by a wholesale grocery house of Chicago on the Continental National Bank. Numerous other drafts ranging from $7500 to $10,000, and scores drawn for $500 each were found. Von Oberkampf was arrested on Saturday and confessed his guilt on Monday. The postoffice authorities are investigating how the postal keys came into his possession, and it is claimed that further arrests will follow. It is supposed that some lettercarrier, anticipating loss of his position, had a duplicate of his key made and gave it to Von Oberkampf, sharing with him the proceeds. Today both men were before Commissioner Hoyne. Mack, who was arrested on suspicion because he had vouched for the genuineness of the check furnished Von Oberkampf's case was continued until Tuesday in bonds of the same amount. Both men are now in jail.

Toward 5 o'clock this morning his condition showed considerable Improvement—so much so that it was deemed prudent for Col. Crocker to go to San Francisco. He left on the 6 o'clock a.m. train on the understanding that he was to be informed by wire of his father's condition.

About 8 o'clock this morning Mr. Crocker grew worse, and showed signs of coma. Restoratives and oxygen were applied, but falled to act as they had done before. His condition became worse between 9 and 10 o'clock. The coma deepened, and, in spite of all efforts, it was apparent that the end could not be long delayed. Dr. Stephens then telegraphed W. AUGUSTA (Me.), Aug. 14.—Salem was passed at 1:20, Ipswich an hour later, the train arriving at Newburyport at 2:11 p.m. At all stops Blaine greeted the crowds, but briefly, as he finds after two years' disuse of public speaking that his voice is easily overtaxed. At Newburyport he pleased the throng by saying that Maine men always felt at home in Massachusetts, and he was glad to be at home among friends.

Portsmouth, N. H., was reached at 3:02, and North Beckwith was the first stop in Blaine's own State. At 3:55 p.m., with a brief response to the welcomes, Blaine was hurried on through Biddeford, Saco and other towns to Portland, where a stop was made at 5:30 p.m. and an acknowledgment made to 8000 people for their greeting.

The train arrived at Augusta at 8:45 p.m. The train arrived at Augusta at 8:45 p.m. The front of the depot was a solid block of humanity shouting wildly "Welcome home." Bands and torches made light and noise. Illuminations were seen in almost every window. Near the Augusta House was a huge triumphal arch of evergreens and American flags, with the words, "Welcome home" in large letters of gas jets. Blaine's house was encircled by a great halo of light from many illuminations. Blaine rode in a carriage drawn by four white horses. As Blaine stepped on his own grounds the band played, "Home, Sweet Home," and he was duly cheered as he walked to the platform accompanied by the reception committee. Hon. W. P. Whitehouse then welcomed Blaine in a hearty address. In response, Mr. Blaine said:

BLAINE'S SPEECH.

"Mr. Mayor, I return my sincere thanks to you and through you to the eloquent orator, Mr. Whitehouse, who has addressed me in such partial terms, for the manner in which you have voiced the kindness and cordiality at this reception, not merely from my neighbors, but from the thousands of friends from all parts of this great State. When I first heard that a reception was to be tendered, I thought it would be confined to friends and neighbors. I thought that as I had lived here since my yelth year, and as my public history began and centers here, that those who had known me for 45 years might extend a cordial welcome, but I had no conception that men from all quarters of the State, from the extreme corner of the common wealth I love so well, and which I have tried faithfully to serve in public stations, would be here [Applause.] You can have no conception how it impresses one who has been for a year beyond the seas, an exile from home, to meet a welcome like this, unbounded in extent, unlimited in its cordiality, and beyond human speech to respond to [Cheers.] But you might take the will for the deed, for my words cannot reach the borders of the vast assembly, [Applause.] I am deeply indebted to you who come from other towns and cities, but the greeting at a man's own home goes to his heart more than any other [cheers], and it is to you of Augusta and of almost all Maine who have done me this great honor that I pour my thanks. [Applause.] "I have seen much of many countries beyond the sea, but I have seen nothing in any kingdom of Europe which did not give me a deeper and more profound appreciation of my own country. [Applause.] "Mr. Mayor, I return my sincere thanks to you and through you to the eloquent any kingdom of Europe which did not kive me a deeper and more profound apprecia-tion of my own country. [Applause.] I have seen everything to make an American thank God that he was born under the sov-ereignty represented by the Stars and Stripes. [Cheers.] I have seen nothing in Stripes. [Cheers.] I have seen nothing in Europe in the industrial systems that did not confirm me in the belief that the system of the United States is wiser and more beneficial to every workingman and citizen than any which one could borrow or imitate. [Cheers and a voice, 'We are not going to borrow it?] I cannot all to recognize the sympathy you have with me and which I have with you in the question whether our industrial system is to be maintained or destroyed. [Good, good.] If I have in the past spoken a with me and which I have with you in the question whether our industrial system is to be maintained or destroyed. ['Good, good.'] If I have in the past spoken a worthy word in support of that system, in the future I hope to say many more 'and more weighty ones. [Cheers.] See to it that no harm comes to the Republic. [Cheers.] Gentlemen, this much I could not help syling outside that which was personal to the occasion. For all you have done for me and for all the testimony you have borne to the kindly relations between myself and my fellow-citizens of Augusta, without distinction of party, I give you my profound thanks. There is to me no State like Maine, no valley like the Kennebec, no city like Augusta, and no home like that home (pointing to his house). [Loud applause.] There I have lived these many years, and there I proposy to live. [Cheers,] I have no desire to separate my interests from yours. I have been with you from my youth upward, and I hope to be here as many years as God shall give me in this world." [Cheers.]

A notable feature of their display was an old battle-flag of Grant's original regiment, the Twenty-first Illinois. The train from Decatur, Ill., brought another large delegation of visitors, who arrived at University Park at about 8 o'clock. Capt. T. B. Minturn and A. H. Mills acted as spokesmen for the two delegations.

In reply to the addresses, Gen. Harriscn spoke mainly upon the tariff issue. In the course of his remarks he said: "The confessed free-traders are very few in this cetatry, but English statesmen and English newspapers declare that we have a great many. We are told that it is only an average reduction of 7 per cent. that is contemplated. You might farrly ask whether this average reduction does not sacrifice some American industry or the wages of our working men and women. You may also fairly ask for the free list, which does not figure in this average. Those who would, it they could, eliminate the protective principles from our tariff laws, have, in former moments of candor, described themselves as progressive free-traders, and it is an apt designation. The protective system is a barrier against the flood of foreign importation and the competition of the underpaid labor in Europe. Those who want to lower the dyke owe it to those who live behind it to make a plain statement of their purposes. Do they want to invite a flood, or do they believe in the dyke, but think it will afford adequate protection at a lower level. It may be that reductions should be made; so it may be that some duties should be increased; but we want to know whether those who propose the revision believe in taking thought of our workingmen in fixing the rates, or will leave them to chance the effects of a purely revenue tariff?"

By Telegraph to The Times. DENVER, Aug. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] A dispatch from Albuquerque, N.M., says: The east bound Atlantic and Pacific train, due at Albuquerque at 1:30 yesterday morning, came in 10 hours behind time. The delay was caused by a wreck which occurred on the desert in California, at a point known as Horse Shoe Curve The train was running very slowly, but the trucks of the express car, it is claimed, were not in good working order, and refused to adjust themselves to the curve. In consequence, the car was pulled off the track, and, breaking away from the engine which it left on the track, went tumbling down a 30-foot embank nent, pulling after it the baggage, mail three emigrant coaches and two sleepers well filled with passengers, all of whom well filled with passengers, all of whom suffered injuries more or less severe. It is asserted that the mail clerk, who was badly brulsed, tried to telegraph to Albuquerque for assistance, and some of the wounded passengers tried to send dispatches to beel riciends, but the railway controlled the only wire, and positively forbid the operator to send the messages. Twelve hours after the accident the passengers were picked up by a special train. The passengers were very indignant at their treatment, particularly in the matter of telegrams, and adopted resolutions condemning the company's action.

Francisco.
San Francisco, Aug. 14.—[By the Associated Press. With respect to the advance of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé upon San Francisce, the report just beginning to be circulated here is under discussion by local engineers. The statement is made in ad circles that the Welbur line in the San Joaquin Valley is, after all, only a San Joaquin Valley is, after all, only a branch line to run from Antioch to Bakersfield. The true main line's routs, it is thought by some, will be from Rogers through Tejon Pass, and, thence up the Cuyamaca River to Santa Maria in Santa Barbara county. At this point it will touch the Pacific Coast narrow-gauge line, which it will probably absord, widening the gauge to San Luis Obispo. From the latter town the route mapped out is through the Salinas Valley, and then up by way of Santa Cruz, San José and Redwood City to San Francisco.

which has heretofore been noticed of the power of judges of the United States States Circuit Courts, to issue writs of habeas corpus ad testificandum for the production of prisoners not sentenced by Federal courts.

The point involved is the responsibility for the safe-keeping of the prisoner in the transfer. The warden says he had laid the question before the United States District Attorney for consideration. The directors, however, thought it best not to contest the point, and ordered the warden to produce whatever prisoners were called for by the Federal courts.

ROSEDALE (West Los Angeles), Aug 12.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] As a long period has elapsed since anything concerning this charming localthing concerning this charming locality—one of the best residence portions of the city—has appeared in The Times, that many may think it is dead and forgotten. Far from such being the case. Few parts of the city can boast of greater signs of improvement and enterprise than West Los Angeles, even at this dull period of the year. The great number of new buildings which have sprung up during the past few months has surprised every one which have sprung up during the past few months has surprised every one who has returned after a temporary absence, and probably accounts for the bewilderment of the Times' carrier in making mistakes in delivery, which, however, are soon remedied and the right parties get their papers early enough to discuss the news at the breakfast table; for every business man, and woman, too, considers his breakfast incomplete without his morning paper.

The advent of the double-track lines The advent of the double-track lines of the two horse cars, via Olive and Ninth streets, to the corner of Vermont avenue and Washington streets, has given West Los Angeles rapid and frequent communication with the center of the city and East Los Angeles, a boon which the residents had long prayed for, and even offered a bonus of everal thousands of dollars. The cars canae, however, without the bonus, for, strauge as it may appear, the street railway company, when offered a bonus two years ago, did not accept it, and by waiting, like Dickens's famous hero, "for something to turn up," decided to build the double tracks for nothing, and moreover built imup," decided to build the double tracks for nothing, and moreover built immense stables and carhouses at the corner of Vermont avenue. With the cars came a postoffice, business blocks, stores and the inevitable, but far from welcome, saloons. The large two-story Rosedale schoolhouse is within a few hundreed feet of the car-stables, directly opposite the beautiful cemetery. This fine schoolhouse will be completed in time for the opening term in September, and will be a credit to the locality. Its cost will be about $25,000.

The Urmston tract, which two years ago was a 70-acre barley field, stretching from Hoover street to Vermont avenue, is now well dotted with homes and looks like a good sized village by itself. That portion of this tract having wooden sidewalks is far less attractive then others with the cement, walks ning wooden sidewalks is far less attractive than others with the cement walks. The planks in some parts have been torn up by the lot owners because they harbor all sorts of vermin. Skunks, squirrels, rabbits and rats have risen up and called the speculators blessed for providing them with such re fuges. They defy man and dog, and sally forth at nights to plunder chickencops and invade man's abode. A young gentleman was sitting one evening on one of the sidewalks when two enterprising skunks brushed past him and crawled under the planks where he was sitting. Another found several young skunks playing and, being a greenhorn, mistook the vermin for kittens of a peculiar production of our glorious climate, put them in a sack and took them home with him in the city. These wooden sidewalks will have to on and it will prevent greedy speculators laying down any more.

A kindergarten school has been started on Vermont avenue by an enterprising lady from Canada, Mrs. H. May, which deserves every encouragement. If the parents of little children too young for the public schools only saw the kindergarten class at work, they would not long keep their little ones penned up in the house or left to trot aimlessly in the streets. The kindergarten is something new to most people here, but it is an institution that should be established in every locality. It is a real pleasure to see the little children so eager to learn and be employed and amused. Their delight is great at having accomplished a feat they never tried before. Let the mothers visit the kindergarten and be convinced.

Loads of lumber and other building materials may be seen daily, being hauled in this direction. Real estate is still firm in price, with an upward tendency, and few owners care to dispose of their property at present rates. People who have lived in this locality any length of this grow more and more attached to time grow more and more attached to it. The regular ocean breeze blows over Rosedale before it reaches the city, and the air and water are always pure and wholesome. The growth of the city is towards this locality and it is here already. the faith eastern capital has in its future.
There has just been completed in this city the that ice is wanted for the preservation, in and other purposes, and that the exorbitant prices only have heretofore prevented its general use. We are confident of your patronage, as we are the directand only cause of the

The Bituminous Lime Rock Paving and Improvement Company
Take this opportunity of informing the citizens and property-owners of this city that the pavement laid on Main street, between First and Third streets, is NOT bituminous lime rock, but is an artificial mixture, and NOT laid by our company. We make this announcement for the purpose of disabusing the minds of those who entertain the belief that this pavement was laid by this company, and are of those who entertain the belief that this pavement was laid by this company, and are disposed to criticise our material as being soft and not suitable for the streets of this city. The only bituminous lime rock pavement here was laid by this company, and extends on Main street from the south line of Third to Ninth street, and on Spring street from Temple to Ninth street. Bituminous lime rock does not become soft and much vancer the ple to Ninth street. Bituminous line rook does not become soft and mushy under the heat of the sun, but always remains firm and elastic. We have already laid on the streets of this city about 500,000 square feet of this pavement, to which we take pleasure in invitang inspection.
